

Spirituality in Computing

Through Computing at Heartwood, we enable spirituality by allowing our children the freedom to safely express themselves online and in the real world. We aim to nurture confident, resilient children who will strive to be the best e-citizen they can be.

As global e-citizens we are careful about what we communicate and share online and we are respectful and mindful when keeping ourselves and others safe in online spaces.

